

SUMMARY

This study considers tournaments with handicap- systems which is participated 24 teams. The aim of the system is to make all teams have probabilities to win the championship at the same level.

Also the study is motivated by the last aim that the results of this study can be applied to real gateball tournaments generally. For that purpose, it will require data of many matches in detail.